

Figure 21

Over-stimulation – glare, reflection, decorative lights, etc. – the check of the contents is sometimes required.

- Distraction, in which the observer's attention is drawn to objects that do not contain the information being sought (Figure 22).

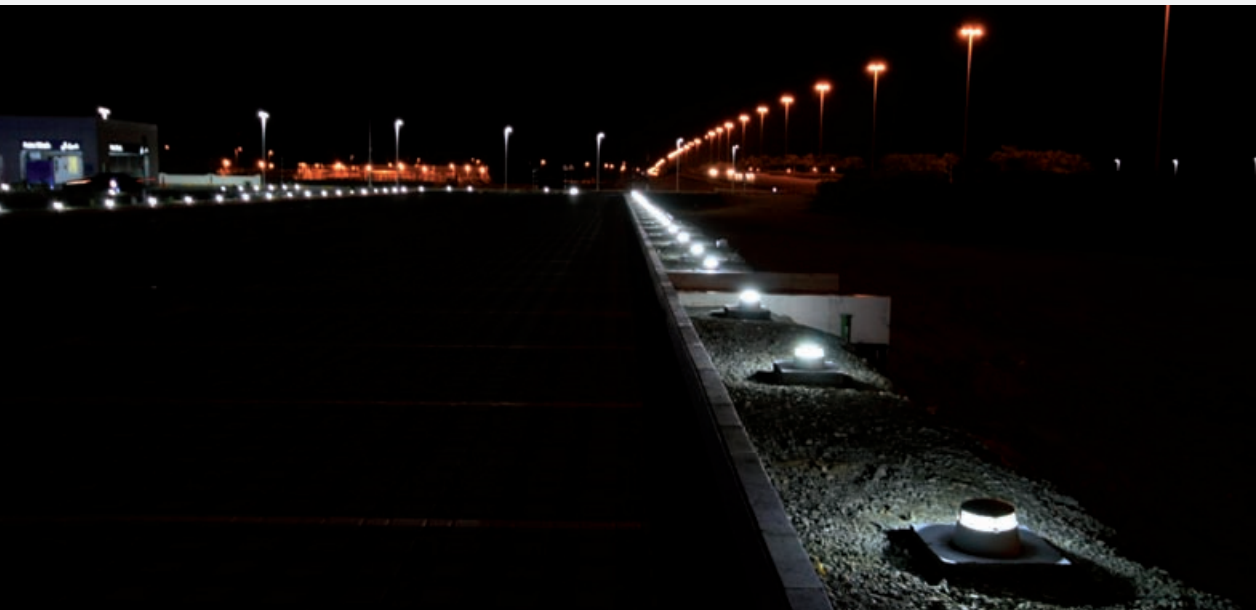

Figure 22

The floor mounted lights are very bright, the parking and surrounding area is too dark to feel safe, or to recognise parking bays, pedestrians, cars or other objects.