

Regulations of Construction Conditions And Specifications in the Emirate of Sharjah

Drainage Pipe : Any pipe installed whether vertically or horizontally for the purpose of transferring all kind of dirty liquids that are free from solid materials.

Work Pipe : Any pipe installed whether vertically or horizontally for the purpose of hauling solid drained materials.

Anti-Absorption Pipe : Any pipe connected to the sanitary ware outlets for equating air pressure for preventing hydro traps absorption.

Ventilation Pipe : Any pipe installed vertically or horizontally for the purpose of ventilating drainages and sanitary installations.

Radiating Materials : Any material composed of or including chemical elements, working constantly on changing its atomist formula through issuing Alpha or Beta particles, or Gama ray, or any other particles, rays or forms.

Leftovers : All waste resulting from animals, vegetables from kitchens, surplus water resulting from housing use, or from preparing food and remaining from what has been consumed in houses, markets, labs, hospitals, factories, and any other similar leftover materials disposed of from other locations.

Latrine : Any seat or vessel used for defecation.

Water Latrine : Urinal.

Cement : Any kind of salt-resistant cement.

Concrete : Mixer consisted of cement, fine sand and water, provided that all materials must be smooth and free from sodium and impurities.

Passage : Any underground passage used for passing sewerage pipes, shallow water and irrigation pipelines.

Water Pollution : Water affected in a manner that makes it inappropriate for use by man, animal and plants.

Sanitary Utilities : Water closets, including all sanitary ware.