

4.2 Integration

Integration of a lighting installation takes four forms:

- Integration within the space, architecture, landscaping, exterior design, use of space.
- Integration with other services.
- Integration with daylight; on/off execution of exterior installations.
- Integration with the surroundings.

4.2.1 Integration within the Space

A lighting installation can be visible and express the exterior design or it can disappear into the background with only its effect being seen. Both approaches rely heavily on attention to detail, specifically, attention to the appearance of the luminaire, lit and unlit, it is necessary for a design that is intended to express the exterior design, while attention to the designer's details is required, during execution, if the intention is to hide the luminaires.

Figure 161
Lights found well integrated in the space, considering the use of space.