

Introduction

Adequate and appropriate lighting enables people to perform visual tasks efficiently and accurately. The degree of visibility and comfort required in a wide range of work places is governed by the type and duration of the activity.

It is important that all clauses of this European Standard are followed although the specific requirements are tabulated in the schedule of lighting requirements (see Clause 5).