

Remotely Control Power Consumption of District Street Lighting: Pilot Project

- Using high technologies, the street lighting systems of districts can be dimmed during the day (almost after mid-night).
- Pilot project is conducted over 50 sites in Al Ain city to remotely control power consumption by street lighting system.
- This results in power reduction of 30%, which indirectly reduce the carbon emission from the power generation plants.